EVENING EDITION

This fencing at the Greencastle dog pound was ripped back last night allowing at least six dogs to escape from the enclosure. As a result of the incident--the second in two weeks, the third this year -- city dog warden Bob Leonard said he will cease the street department's fight against stray dogs and dog packs in the city. The animals have attacked several residents and have been termed a danger to city dwellers. Leonard said the break-ins forced his decision to call off the war since it served no purpose to catch the animals only to have someone let them loose.

Tri-School Jazz Band Established

In the fall of 1972, the Putnam County Jazz Band was established through the co-operation of the five county band directors. This 18-member honor group was formed through teacher recommendation with instrumentation considered.

The group consists of students of three county schools; Cloverdale, North Putnam and South Putnam. Members of the band include: Saxophones-Marsha Broadstreet (C), Rick Carpenter (SP), Lora Myers (NP), Kathy Sutherlin (C), Claudia Tracy (NP); Trumpets-Jeff Williams (C), Dave Merriman (C), Steve Lucas (SP), Dave Henson (C), Ken Patten (C); Trombones-Kim Wilson (NP), Craig Miller (NP), Tim Ford (C) Rick Nichols (SP); Rhythm - Dave Ford

(C), Randy Albright (SP), Lisa Porter (NP), and Bruce Sutherlin (NP). The students have been rehearsing at the three schools in preparation for the Elmhurst Jazz Festival on March 9 and 10 in Fort Wayne. The group will perform Saturday morning with individuals competing for soloist honors against some of the finest stage bands in the state. Saturday afternoon, the tri-school stage band will receive instruction in jazz performance from a member of the world renown Thad Jones-

Mel Lewis band. Saturday evening, the group will hear the Thad Jones-Mel Lewis group and the Elmhurst Stage Band in concert. The trip has been made possible through Kersey Music Store.

Later in the spring, the band hopes to tour all four county schools and present a jazz concert and clinic. Plans are also being made for a concert for Putnam County residents.

The stage band has been organized under the direction of Robert Murray, band director at Cloverdale High School and David Gjesvold, a band director at North Putnam High School. Assisting with the band also is Kenneth Rogier, director of the South Putnam band.

His hunting methods not Christian at all

By Abigail Van Buren © 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: May I add my comment to "Hunter's Wife," concerning a husband who loves to hunt:

A minister I knew in the Army more than a quarter of a century ago once told me that far too many deer were only wounded, and went off into the woods to die in agony. "My system," he explained, "is to break the deer's leg with my first shot. Then I send my dogs after him. They drive him to my car, and I shoot him there, so I don't have to carry him, but can load him right on." In short, Abby, people who love to kill will always find a way to rationalize their cruelty. C. H. IN N. Y. C.

DEAR C. H.: I am appalled. I hope that minister didn't preach what he practiced. DEAR ABBY: I am 24, and my husband is 26. We both work and don't have any children, which is a good thing, because my husband is getting on my nerves. We never go anywhere or do anything because he never wants to. I make enough money to have my own car, but he doesn't want me to have one. He'd rather drive me to work and pick me up and have me ask him if I want to use HIS car on weekends. When he lets me, he gives me a time limit, which isn't very long. When I come home he quizzes me on where I went and who I saw. My younger sister is a high school cheerleader, so when I go to my mother's and she's home, she and I practice cheers and I help her make up some routines because I used to be a cheerleader, too. My husband just hates that. He keeps saying: "You're not in high school any more. You're a married woman, so grow up and act like one." Then he cuts the visit short and says: "Let's go home. I'm

He's also very jealous with no reason. I found out he PAYS some of the neighborhood kids to watch my house and write down the exact time they see me coming and

What do you think of this marriage? DISGUSTED DEAR DISGUSTED: I think it's time you and your husband went somewhere together. For openers, try a marriage counselor. I've heard only your side of it, but your husband sounds like an immature, possessive, selfish sourpuss to me. You have a whole lifetime ahead of you, so you'd better learn how to get along with each other-or without. But don't go on this way.

DEAR ABBY: If anyone wonders what to give a senior citizen who's on a tight budget, please tell them to be practical. [I have enough perfumed soap and aftershave lotion to last me a lifetime.]

A most appreciated gift would be a book of postage stamps, or some stamped envelopes, or postcards. It's not always easy for us older folks to get to a post office, and it's nice to have these things on hand. Last Thanksgiving a dear friend gave me my Christmas present early. It was a large box of Christmas cards. Bless her, if she hadn't given me some, I wouldn't have been able to send cards that year. Please, pass the word, will you, Abby? It will make a merrier Christmas for many senior citizens. C. H. S. IN S. F.

DEAR C. H. S.: Consider it passed. But why wait until Christmas? DEAR ABBY: Someone signed "ONE IN SEVEN" attempted to justify large families for those who can "afford" them. I offer some economic facts. It costs approximately $800 per year to educate one child, which adds up to $67,200 for seven children. If the parents actually paid this sum over a 24-year period, and if they lived in this area, they should be living in a $203,600 house and pay $5,600 in property taxes, half of which would be school taxes. They should have a minimum annual income of $50,900! How many seven-children families do you know in this bracket? So who is paying for them? The childless, single, and retired people are-thru their taxes! And I for one am fed up with unfair taxes. MRS. A. P. IN BREA, CAL.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DISTRACTED IN THE COM-POSING ROOM": My friend, Dr. William L. Rivers of the Stanford University Journalism Department, said, "Typographical errors are worse than errors of ignorance. The ignorant can be taught. Moral: Be careful." [I'm with Old

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope,

My partner, John Crawford, opened the bidding with a club. I had no good reason to respond, so I did what most players would do: I passed.

♠ Q 10 9 6 2 The Swedish South couldn't bring himself to sell out for a club, so he bid a spade. Crawford doubled for takeout and North helped me out of an unpleasant predicament by bidding two diamonds.

I passed, of course, but Crawford persisted — perfectly justifiably, I might add - by doubling again.

At this point it looked as though Crawford wanted me to bid hearts or clubs, but the thought of naming either suit revolted me. I decided to pass and take my chances against two diamonds doubled.

This proved to be a lucky decision when South ran to two spades. Again Crawford doubled, but this time, when I passed, I was on considerably firmer ground.

 There is a worn area on our kitchen linoleum. The pattern is quite distinctive, but I recently saw some linoleum tile that is a perfect match. Can I cut out the worn part and replace it with one of the tiles? If so, how should I do it?

A. - Yes, you can replace the worn section with the tile by using the new tile as the guide for cutting out the old piece of linoleum. Use a linoleum knife to do the cutting. Work very carefully. If the knife doesn't cut all the way through easily, don't force it. Cut part way through, then go back and start over again. This gradual method will insure accuracy, but more important, it will prevent knife slippage that might injure but keep a clean cloth handy so that when you press the tile into place, you can quickly wipe up any cement that oozes up at the seams. The only drawback is that the tile, being new, will look extra clean in comparison with the rest of the surface. You can leave it that way, allowing time to take care of the difference, or you can deliberately dirty up the tile a bit.

When the worn section has been cut out, scrape out the area thoroughly, then apply cement and put in the new piece. Be generous with the cement.

Incidentally, I recently saw how a homeowner solved his problem of a couple of worn spots in a linoleum floor. He cut out eight diamond-shape patterns in the floor at measured intervals so that two of them fell on the worn parts. He then sliced diagonally across four linoleum tiles and used the eight pieces to fill in the places he had cut out. After he dirtied up the tiles a bit, it appeared as though the diamonds were part of the original design.

Q. - We have a very old wooden fence made from cypress. It appears to be very dried out. Can it be restored to its original condition?

A. - Not very likely. However, you would be wise to apply a couple of coats of wood preservative to it. Despite its condition - and assuming that it is not actually decayed - it may still last a long time.
